

HUMANE SCORECARD

Report on the 115th Congress, Second Session

HUMANE SOCIETY LEGISLATIVE FUND™

HOW HSLF CALCULATED SCORES

Many animal protection issues never receive a recorded vote in Congress. Some are enacted by voice vote, and some languish. To accurately measure legislators' support, we count not just recorded votes but other meaningful ways they can help issues advance, such as co-sponsoring key bills and co-signing letters seeking increased enforcement of animal welfare laws. To give a balanced snapshot across a broad range of animal protection concerns, we only count co-sponsorship of a few priority bills that have a critical mass of support and a reasonable chance of enactment. Scores are given as percentages of the number of items counted. Prime sponsors of legislation and those who led on a letter to an agency also receive extra credit equal to one vote or co-sponsorship and a ✓ in the Leaders column. Those who led on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or led on a top priority bill receive double extra credit equal to two votes or co-sponsorships and a ★ in the Leaders column. If a legislator already has a score of 100 before counting the extra credit for Leaders, that score appears in bold with a plus sign. HSLF acknowledges the limitations of judging legislators based on a few votes, co-sponsorships, joint letters and leadership on animal issues. In some cases, legislators must miss votes for unavoidable reasons, such as a death in the family or emergency in their district. Please also consider such unrecorded matters as performance on committees, positions of House or Senate leadership, constituent service and co-sponsorship of other animal protection bills not included in the scorecard.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

THE 115TH CONGRESS second session had its share of frustrating setbacks, but the FY18 omnibus appropriations deal signed into law in March and the farm bill enacted in December contained some spectacular wins for animal protection. Here's a snapshot of major actions in 2018:

FARM BILL

Some of our biggest victories in this massive, multi-year package were defensive plays:

- Most importantly, we blocked a terrible amendment by Rep. Steve King, R-Iowa, that threatened to gut countless state and local laws on animal protection, food safety and other agriculture-related concerns.

- We also successfully countered amendments to eliminate the Animal Welfare Act (AWA) requirement for annual U.S. Department of Agriculture inspections at animal research laboratories and amendments to weaken Endangered Species Act (ESA) protections.

We secured three key pro-animal measures in the final package:

- The Pet and Women Safety (PAWS) Act extends federal domestic violence protections to include pets and authorizes grant money to help domestic violence shelters and other entities arrange shelter for survivors with pets.
- The Parity in Animal Cruelty Enforcement (PACE) Act clarifies that federal prohibitions on animal fighting apply in all U.S. jurisdictions, including territories where cockfighting is still openly practiced.
- The Dog and Cat Meat Trade Prohibition Act prohibits the domestic slaughter, trade, and import/export of dogs and cats for human consumption, preventing an appalling trade from taking hold in the U.S. and strengthening our standing to end it worldwide.

APPROPRIATIONS

The FY18 omnibus spending bill enacted in March contained many pro-animal items:

- Equines: Renewed "defund" provision that effectively prevents horse slaughter plants from reopening on U.S. soil. Restated prohibition on sending wild horses or burros to slaughter for human consumption.

- Wildlife: Struck riders that would have eliminated ESA protections (and barred judicial review) for gray wolves in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Eliminated rider allowing extreme methods of hunting on National Park Service lands in Alaska.

- Animal welfare enforcement: Following requests by 184 representatives and 38 senators, provided a $2 million increase for AWA enforcement, added $1.5 million to a student loan repayment program that helps veterinarians work in underserved areas, and sustained funding in other animal welfare accounts. Also criticized the USDA for thwarting access to AWA and Horse Protection Act inspection reports and directed the agency to comply with earlier requirements "that the online searchable database should allow analysis and comparison of data and include all inspection reports, annual reports, and other documents related to enforcement of animal welfare laws."

- Research and testing: Maintained funding for the Environmental Protection Agency to develop replacements for animal tests and increased funding by $36 million for a National Institutes of Health program that helps transition science to non-animal test methods. Encouraged NIH to expedite retirement of chimpanzees in research facilities and to expand the national chimpanzee sanctuary system. Maintained prohibition on

HSLF President Sara Amundson

USDA licensing of “random source” dealers, who are notorious for acquiring dogs and cats through fraudulent means (including pet theft), keeping them in inhumane conditions and selling them for research.

■ Wounded warriors: Doubled funding (a $5 million increase) for Department of Defense grants to nonprofits providing therapeutic service dogs to veterans and active duty personnel suffering from physical injuries and emotional trauma, and boosted by $1 million a Veterans Affairs program providing equine therapy for veterans with mental health issues.

Some pro-animal FY19 budget provisions were enacted:

■ Provided a $105.4 million increase for the NIH program developing non-animal alternatives to animal tests.
■ Maintained $10 million for the Defense Department program that awards grants for therapy dogs, and increased by $500,000 the Veterans Affairs equine therapy program.

Other priorities in the FY19 budget await final resolution as we go to press:

■ The horse slaughter defund provision is in the Senate bill but not the House bill.
■ Both the House and Senate bills include the prohibition on the slaughter of wild horses and burros for human consumption, but the House version also directs immediate initiation of a surgical sterilization program despite a lack of evidence that the method can be performed humanely or effectively.
■ The House bill contains terrible riders to undo ESA protections for gray wolves and block the reintroduction of grizzly bears in Washington State.

ADDITIONAL VICTORIES

■ While the USDA budget isn't finalized, the FY19 funding request letters (signed by a record 190 representatives and 38 senators) helped drive needed action: In May, the agency abandoned its proposal to outsource animal welfare oversight and give regulated industries (puppy mills, roadside zoos, research laboratories, etc.) the power to decide which facilities warrant federal inspections.
■ In September, the House passed a global resolution, H. Res. 401, urging all nations to prohibit and enforce laws to end the cruel dog and cat meat trade. (House resolutions don't require Senate approval or presidential signature, so this measure is completed.)
■ The Welfare of Our Furry Friends (WOOFF) Act was signed into law in October as part of the Federal Aviation Administration reauthorization. Introduced after a French bulldog died when an attendant insisted on stowing him in an overhead bin during a long flight, the WOOFF Act prohibits storage of live animals in airplane overhead compartments and authorizes civil penalties.
■ Several measures saw action in one chamber during the 115th Congress, setting the stage for future success. They included the Shark Fin Trade Elimination Act (p. 2) and the Preventing Animal Cruelty and Torture (PACT) Act (p. 7). The Horseracing Integrity Act (H.R. 2651), which aims to end widespread doping of race horses, had a House hearing in June (with testimony by the Humane Society of the United States), and in September the House approved the Rescuing Animals With Rewards (RAWR) Act (H.R. 6197) to crack down on international wildlife trafficking.

SETBACKS

We did encounter some serious setbacks. Legislation to bring urgently needed changes to agriculture checkoff programs—so their funds are no longer misused to lobby against animal welfare reforms—failed in the Senate (pp. 2-3). A farm bill amendment to end the cruelty of horse “soring” was blocked from House floor consideration. Numerous animal protection bills, detailed in the following pages, garnered hundreds of bipartisan co-sponsors but stalled because House and Senate leadership refused to call them up for a vote.

LOOKING AHEAD

The new Congress presents exciting opportunities to move reintroduced bills that are ripe for swift action. We hope to see significantly fewer anti-animal measures brought to the House floor, although we'll likely need to respond to additional regulatory rollbacks against wildlife and other animals and to press for stronger agency enforcement and accountability. We're eager to work on new priorities as well, such as disaster planning for animals at regulated facilities, as we face increasingly extreme weather events.

For all this and more, we'll be counting on your continued help. You have been the key to our successes in 2018, and if you keep speaking out for the animals, we can accomplish even greater progress in the 116th Congress!

SENATE SCORED ITEMS

Horse soring

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Prevent All Soring Tactics (PAST) Act (S. 2957) to crack down on the cruel practice of “soring,” in which trainers deliberately inflict pain on the hooves and legs of Tennessee walking horses and related breeds to force them to perform an unnaturally high-stepping gait for competitions. Congress passed the Horse Protection Act almost 50 years ago to end this abuse, but rampant soring continues, as shown in a 2010 audit by the USDA inspector general and by HSUS undercover investigations in 2012 and 2015. The PAST Act would end the failed system of industry self-policing, ban the use of devices associated with soring, strengthen penalties and make illegal the actual soring of a horse—all without any additional taxpayer burden.

SPONSORS: Sens. Mike Crapo, R-Idaho; Mark Warner, D-Va.

STATUS: 46 co-sponsors; no action by Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation.

Pets and domestic violence

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Pet and Women Safety (PAWS) Act (S. 322), which expands current federal domestic violence protections to include pets and authorizes grant money to help domestic violence shelters and other entities arrange shelter for survivors with pets. Currently, only 3 percent of these shelters allow pets, and many people delay their decision to leave a violent situation out of fear for their pets’ safety (a legitimate concern considering that up to 84 percent of women entering shelters reported that their partners abused or killed the family pet). While 32 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico have adopted related legislation, the PAWS Act will ensure protection across the country.

SPONSORS: Sens. Gary Peters, D-Mich.; Dean Heller, R-Nev.

STATUS: 42 co-sponsors; included in initial Senate farm bill introduced by Agriculture Committee Chairman Pat Roberts, R-Kan., and ranking member Debbie Stabenow, D-Mich., and sustained in final farm bill signed into law as P.L. 115-334 in December 2018.

Animal fighting

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Parity in Animal Cruelty Enforcement (PACE) Act (S. 2971), which clarifies that federal prohibitions on animal fighting apply equally to all U.S. jurisdictions, including U.S. territories. The PACE Act will help protect animals from vicious cruelty, protect communities from other criminal activity often linked to animal fighting, reduce public health threats from the transmission of bird flu and other diseases, and enhance enforcement of the federal animal fighting law across the U.S.

SPONSORS: Sens. Cory Booker, D-N.J.; Richard Blumenthal, D-Conn.

STATUS: 28 co-sponsors; included in House farm bill by 359-51 vote and filed as an amendment to Senate farm bill by Sens. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., and Susan Collins, R-Maine, but didn’t receive floor vote. Included in final farm bill (P.L. 115-334).

Horse slaughter

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Safe-guard American Food Exports (SAFE) Act (S. 1706) to protect horses and consumers by prohibiting the transport and export of U.S. horses to slaughter for human consumption. American horses are not raised for food and are routinely given drugs that can be toxic to people if ingested. Horse slaughter is cruel, and the U.S. public overwhelmingly opposes it. Horses are shipped for long distances and are often seriously injured or killed in transit. At the slaughter plant, the methods used to kill horses rarely result in quick, painless deaths. This predatory industry doesn’t “euthanize” old, sick horses; young and healthy horses are purchased, often by buyers misrepresenting their intentions, and killed for the overseas horsemeat market.

SPONSORS: Sens. Robert Menendez, D-N.J.; Lindsey Graham, R-S.C.; Sheldon Whitehouse, D-R.I.; Susan Collins, R-Maine

STATUS: 31 co-sponsors; no action by Committee on Health, Education, Labor and Pensions. Related legislation barring the USDA from spending funds to inspect horse slaughter plants was included in the Senate’s initial FY19 agriculture appropriations bill introduced in May 2018 and approved by the Appropriations Committee, but final action on appropriations isn’t yet resolved as of press time.

Shark fin trade

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Shark Fin Trade Elimination Act (S. 793) to protect sharks from cruelty and preserve our oceans’ fragile ecosystems. S. 793 would strengthen federal laws against finning, in which fishermen slice off sharks’ fins and toss the mutilated animals back into the ocean to die. This bill would prohibit the trade in shark fins, expanding on the Shark Finning Prohibition Act of 2000 and the Shark Conservation Act of 2010 (laws that banned shark finning and the transportation on U.S.-flagged vessels of fins not “naturally attached” to the carcass).

SPONSORS: Sens. Cory Booker, D-N.J.; Shelley Moore Capito, R-W.Va.

STATUS: 40 co-sponsors; approved by Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation in May 2017 but not considered by full Senate.

Checkoff funds

A ✓ indicates a vote for an amendment to the farm bill (S. 3042), based on the Opportunities for Fairness in Farming (OFF) Act (S. 741), to correct abuses that have undermined the USDA's agriculture checkoff programs and to prevent checkoff dollars from being misused to lobby against animal welfare reforms and family farmer interests. This legislation would establish transparency and accountability requirements, and it would prohibit a checkoff board and its employees and agents from engaging in any act that involves a conflict of interest, anti-competitive activity, or unfair or deceptive practice toward other agricultural products.

SPONSORS: Sens. Mike Lee, R-Utah; Cory Booker, D-N.J.; Maggie Hassan, D-N.H.; Rand Paul, R-Ky.; Elizabeth Warren, D-Mass.

STATUS: Rejected by a 38-57 vote in June 2018.

Farm bill final passage

A ✓ indicates a vote in favor of final passage of the Senate/House conference version of the farm bill (Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018, H.R. 2). We note that senators had many reasons for voting as they did on this large package, but we urged support for two reasons: First, the final version omitted the dangerous amendment offered by Rep. Steve King, R-Iowa, which threatened to nullify hundreds of state and local laws on animal welfare and other concerns. Second, the final version contained three vital pro-animal measures: the PAWS Act on pets and domestic violence, the PACE Act on animal fighting, and the Dog and Cat Meat Trade Prohibition Act (drawn from H.R. 1406).

STATUS: Passed by a vote of 87-13 and signed into law as P.L. 115-334 in December 2018.

Funding letter

A ✓ indicates that a member was one of 38 senators who co-signed a group letter or submitted a parallel individual request in April to the agriculture appropriations subcommittee. The letters sought FY19 funding for enforcement of the Animal Welfare Act (AWA) (including at USDA Agricultural Research Service facilities conducting research on farm animals), Horse

Protection Act (HPA), Humane Methods of Slaughter Act and federal animal fighting law, and for programs to address the needs of animals in disasters and to encourage veterinarians to locate in underserved areas. The letters also asked the subcommittee to include language directing the USDA to restore complete and searchable online access to inspection reports and other documents related to the AWA and HPA, and to shelve its proposal to outsource animal welfare oversight to regulated industries. (Subcommittee and committee leaders don't sign letters to themselves but received credit because they were responsive to these requests.)

SPONSORS: Sens. Ron Wyden, D-Ore.; John Kennedy, R-La.

STATUS: In May 2018, the USDA abandoned its misguided plan to outsource AWA inspections, and the Senate Appropriations Committee approved needed funds. (As of press time, the partial government shutdown beginning in December 2018 stalled final action on funding.)

Leaders

A ✓ indicates that the senator earned extra credit for leading as a prime sponsor of pro-animal legislation (including items not scored on this chart) or a letter to an agency. A ★ indicates that the senator earned double extra credit for leading on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or leading on a top priority issue.

SPONSORS: Reps. Lamar Smith,

R-Texas; Ted Deutch, D-Fla.

STATUS: 284 co-sponsors; Senate approved PACT by unanimous consent in December 2017, but no House action by Committee on the Judiciary or full chamber.

Horse slaughter

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Safeguard American Food Exports (SAFE) Act (H.R. 113) to protect horses and consumers by prohibiting the transport and export of U.S. horses to slaughter for human consumption. American horses aren’t raised for food and are routinely given drugs that can be toxic to people if ingested. Horse slaughter is cruel, and the U.S. public overwhelmingly opposes it. Horses are often seriously injured or killed during long-distance transit. At the slaughter plant, horses rarely experience quick, painless deaths. This predatory industry doesn’t “euthanize” old, sick horses; young and healthy horses are purchased, often by buyers misrepresenting their intentions, and killed for the overseas horsemeat market.

SPONSORS: Reps. Vern Buchanan,

R-Fla.; Jan Schakowsky, D-Ill.;

Ed Royce, R-Calif.; Michelle Lujan

Grisham, D-N.M.

STATUS: 219 co-sponsors; no action by Committee on Energy and Commerce or Committee on Agriculture. A related “defund” provision barring USDA inspections of horse slaughter plants was included in the Senate’s FY19 agriculture appropriations bill, but final action on appropriations isn’t yet resolved as of press time.

Shark fin sales

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Shark Fin Sales Elimination Act (H.R. 1456) to protect sharks from cruelty and preserve our oceans’ fragile ecosystems. H.R. 1456 would strengthen federal laws against finning, in which fishermen slice off sharks’ fins and toss the mutilated animals back into the ocean to die. This bill would prohibit the trade in shark fins, expanding on the Shark Finning Prohibition Act of 2000 and the Shark Conservation Act of 2010 (laws that banned shark finning and the transportation on U.S.-flagged vessels of fins not “naturally attached” to the carcass).

HOUSE SCORED ITEMS

SPONSORS: Reps. Ed Royce, R-Calif.; Gregorio Kilili Camacho Sablan, D-N. Marianas

STATUS: 263 co-sponsors; no action by Committee on Natural Resources.

Animal testing for cosmetics

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Humane Cosmetics Act (H.R. 2790) to phase out the testing of cosmetics on live animals and the sale of animal-tested cosmetics in the U.S. These tests performed on rabbits, guinea pigs, rats and mice are intensely cruel and unreliable predictors of effects on humans. Cosmetics companies can choose from thousands of ingredients already known to be safe for humans. For new ingredients, there are faster, less expensive non-animal methods to ensure products are safe for human use. More than 1.8 billion consumers live in countries that have already adopted similar restrictions, and 250 personal care product companies support this legislation.

SPONSORS: Reps. Martha McSally, R-Ariz.; Don Beyer, D-Va.; Ed Royce, R-Calif.; Tony Cárdenas, D-Calif.; Frank LoBiondo, R-N.J.; Paul Tonko, D-N.Y.

STATUS: 187 co-sponsors; no action by Committee on Energy and Commerce.

Puppy mills

A ✓ indicates co-sponsorship of the Welfare of Our Friends (WOOF) Act

(H.R. 4691) to address significant deficiencies in USDA oversight of commercial dog breeding facilities. The USDA often allows breeders with severe and multiple violations of the Animal Welfare Act to be licensed year after year and allows those whose licenses have been suspended or revoked to operate under a new license using a family member’s name. The WOOF Act would prohibit the agency from issuing licenses to breeders whose previous licenses have been revoked or suspended or to their immediate family members at the same address.

SPONSORS: Reps. Brian Fitzpatrick, R-Pa.; Charlie Crist, D-Fla.

Animal fighting

A ✓ indicates a vote for an amendment to the farm bill (H.R. 2), mirroring the Parity in Animal Cruelty Enforcement (PACE) Act (H.R. 4202). The amendment clarifies that federal prohibitions on animal fighting apply in all U.S. jurisdictions, including U.S. territories, and will help protect animals from vicious cruelty, protect communities from other criminal activity often linked to animal fighting, reduce public health threats from bird flu and other diseases, and enhance enforcement of the federal animal fighting law across the U.S. (Members also received credit if they co-sponsored the PACE Act but missed the vote; however, co-sponsors who voted against the amendment didn’t receive credit.)

STATUS: 62 co-sponsors; passed by a vote of 359-51 and signed into law as part of P.L. 115-334 in December 2018.

Farm bill I

A ✓ indicates a vote against passage of the House farm bill (H.R. 2) in May 2018. We note that representatives had many reasons for voting as they did on this large package, and that the bill included two pro-animal provisions—strengthening the federal animal fighting law (the PACE amendment discussed above) and prohibiting the trade in dog and cat meat (an amendment based on H.R. 1406 that was approved in committee). But we urged a no vote because the package contained an egregious committee amendment by Rep. Steve King, R-Iowa (based on his H.R. 4879), which could nullify protections on a wide range of concerns, including food safety, animal welfare and agriculture.

STATUS: Rejected by a vote of 198-213 in May 2018.

Farm bill II

A ✓ indicates a vote against passage of the House farm bill (H.R. 2) when it was brought to the floor again in June 2018. Unaltered from the May version, the bill still contained the King amendment—a radical federal overreach that could undermine thousands of state and local laws, including ones addressing intensive confinement of farm animals, horse slaughter, puppy mills, shark finning and other issues ranging from pesticides to child labor to diseased livestock.

STATUS: Passed by a vote of 213-211 in June 2018.

Interior appropriations

A ✓ indicates a vote against passage of the House bill funding the Interior Department for FY19 (H.R. 6147). Although the bill contains some good news for animals—with funding and language that encourage the Environmental Protection Agency to enhance its development and implementation of non-animal methods for chemical safety tests and a provision reinstated from previous years to prevent the Bureau of Land Management from sending healthy horses and burros to slaughter—it also includes severely harmful provisions. The bill would undermine the Endangered Species Act (ESA) and protections for imperiled species such as grizzly bears and gray wolves. It also takes a step in the wrong direction regarding the management of wild horses and burros on public lands by steering funds to a surgical sterilization program without any evidence that the method used can be performed humanely or will effectively manage populations. (The agency should instead use federally approved fertility control methods that are less invasive.)

STATUS: Passed by a vote of 217-199 in July 2018.

Gray wolves

A ✓ indicates a vote against the Manage Our Wolves Act (H.R. 6784), which would remove ESA protections for gray wolves across the entire contiguous 48 states, as well as bar judicial review. Hunted nearly to extinction over previous centuries, gray wolves have made a fragile recovery in a small fraction of their historic range. Removing ESA protections would permit states to reinstitute the hunting of gray wolves, including by such inhumane methods as steel-jawed leghold traps and chasing by hounds.

SPONSORS (ANTI-ANIMAL BILL):

Reps. Sean Duffy, R-Wis.; Dan Newhouse, R-Wash.; Cathy McMorris Rodgers, R-Wash.; Collin Peterson, D-Minn.

STATUS: Passed by a vote of 196-180 in November 2018; referred to Senate Committee on Environment and Public Works, which did not advance the bill; a parallel effort to remove gray wolf protections via the FY19 interior appropriations bill is awaiting final action.

Farm bill final passage

A ✓ indicates a vote in favor of final passage of the Senate/House conference version of the farm bill (Agriculture Improvement Act of 2018, H.R. 2). We urged support for two reasons: First, the final version omitted the dangerous amendment by Rep. Steve King, R-Iowa, which threatened to nullify hundreds of state and local laws on animal welfare and other concerns. Second, the final version contained three vital pro-animal measures: the PAWS Act, the PACE Act, and the Dog and Cat Meat Trade Prohibition Act (drawn from H.R. 1406).

STATUS: Passed by a vote of 369-47 and signed into law as P.L. 115-334 in December 2018.

Funding letter

A ✓ indicates that a member was one of 190 representatives who requested FY19 funding for enforcement of the Animal Welfare Act (AWA), Horse Protection Act (HPA), Humane Methods of Slaughter Act and federal animal fighting law, and for programs to address the needs of animals in disasters and to encourage veterinarians, through student loan repayment assistance, to locate in underserved areas. Submitted in March, the funding request letters also asked the agriculture appropriations subcommittee to include language directing the USDA to restore complete and searchable online access to inspection reports and other documents related to the AWA and HPA, and to shelve its proposal to outsource animal welfare oversight to regulated industries. (Subcommittee and committee leaders don't sign letters to themselves but received credit because they were responsive to these requests.)

SPONSORS: Reps. Chris Smith, R-N.J.; Earl Blumenauer, D-Ore.

STATUS: In May 2018, the USDA abandoned its misguided plan to outsource AWA inspections, and the House Appropriations Committee approved needed funds. (As of press time, the dispute over the border wall and resulting partial government shutdown beginning in December 2018 stalled final action on funding.)

Congressional Animal Protection Caucus

A ▲ indicates that the representative is a member of this caucus, led by Reps. Vern Buchanan, R-Fla., and Earl Blumenauer, D-Ore., which highlights important issues affecting animals and opportunities for legislators to help advance sensible reforms. Caucus membership does not affect numerical scores.

STATUS: 166 members

Leaders

A ✓ indicates that the representative earned extra credit for leading as a prime sponsor of pro-animal legislation (including items not scored on this chart) or a letter to an agency. A ★ indicates that the representative earned double extra credit for leading on multiple legislative and/or regulatory efforts or leading on a top priority issue.
